As of 2016, William Chris currently makes more Mourvèdre than anyone else in the state of Texas and we believe Mourvèdre is a grape that truly shows what Texas vines can do. Because wineries and growers are discovering how amazing this grape does in Texas, there is currently a 2 year wait for Mourvèdre vines. Andy Timmons, owner/grower/farmer/producer of Lost Draw Vineyards and longtime friend of William Chris, was the first grower to produce Mourvèdre for William Chris Vineyards and continues to produce it for us today. The grapes and terroir of this single vineyard wine are a true testament to why this is the grape for Texas.

A soft burgundy tone evokes cranberry and red plum, then gives way to fresh aromas of dried red raspberry leaves and fresh red currant. Vibrant on palate with youthful freshness unfolding as macerated blackberries, raspberries, black cherries and all their respective green leafy shoots. Fruit and green leafy tones transition to bold notes of fennel seed, green walnuts, oil cured black olive on the finish.
