THE WINE

The national grape of Spain produces wine with both fresh and dried fruit flavors, often medium to full in body, rich in flavor and and never short on character. Traditionally aged in American Oak casks, this Tempranillo was aged for 28 months in the more refined Slovanian oak in order to preserve the cherry and dried fig flavors. The tertiary notes of dill, tobacco, and cedar compliment the wine instead of overpowering it, resulting is a fresh and savory wine that can elevate your BBQ game to a whole new level.
